As the millennium draws to a close in the land of choice, Americans in increasing numbers are choosing for themselves the gift that keeps on giving...* and taking...

the sports utility vehicle ani, bob, no kids

apart from our shameless editorializing <heh, heh>
we send to you and the world our heartfelt wishes of peace, hope, justice la pace, la speranza, la justizia

שלום תקווה צדק

אני אל עדי

אני + בוב

happy holidays

WHAT WAS THAT BUMP?

Footnotes

* more greenhouse gases, more aggressive driving, more accident damage to other vehicles  more of the world's energy resources

 USA: 5 percent of the population producing one fourth the world's greenhouse gases, using an even bigger share of the world's resources, owner of half the world's autos which produce a third of its own greenhouse gases, and where half the new vehicles being sold are (fuel inefficient) trucks, including SUV's, which are not subject to car emission and fuel efficiency standards

WebTreats

1997 recipe gift from the dr bob ms_ani cooking team: guavaberry / lingonberry cheesecake [or if ingredients are unavailable, your choice of: pumpkin tiramisu or brownie cheesecake torte].
Requests for hard copies will be accepted from web challenged dessert lovers.

in memory of the 1974 gas crisis which forced the US to consider using the world's energy resources more efficiently if only for a short time
